The New Connecticut Port Authority: Origin, Implementation & Economic Impact

The Connecticut Maritime Coalition, Inc. takes pleasure in welcoming you to their Annual Maritime Speaker's Conference. You are invited to participate and interact with port industry professionals as they share their ideas, insights and expertise relevant to implementing and operating a successful port authority.

On June 16th, 2014 Public Act 14-222 establishing the CT Port Authority was signed by Governor Dannel P. Malloy. Per the legislation, the Authority's primary role will be to coordinate port and maritime economic development, establish a statewide port marketing strategy, and serve as the lead agency in seeking federal, state and private funding for port development.

Conference Moderator, P. Jason Ward is the Managing Partner at Industrial Search Partners, a Connecticut headquartered company that specializes in recruiting senior executive talent and board of director members for both public and private transportation sector clients on a global basis.

business experience, with a focus on assignments across the industrial and transportation market segments, including heavy manufacturing, processes and converting operations, automotive, electronics, construction, all modes of asset-based transportation and 3PL, Intermodal logistics, import/export, and supply chain.

Most recently, Jason led the industrial practice at RSR Partners, where he created and built a multimillion dollar team. Previously, he was a Senior Client Partner at Korn/Ferry International (NYSE: KFY). He recruits executives within all functions, including firm's CEO's, presidents, and senior level positions in operations, marketing, sales, finance, regulatory compliance and human resources, within both domestic and international markets. Jason also recruits for clients at the Board of Directors level.

Prior to joining Korn/Ferry in 1999, Jason was the U.S. Commercial Manager for a prominent European-based owner of a fleet of modern double hull super tankers. Jason's previous international business experience includes operations management for a privately-held time charter operator of dry bulk carriers and sales and marketing management in the commercial electronic communications equipment sector.

Jason was awarded his Master's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Connecticut. Prior to this, he served as a Commissioned Engineering Officer in the United States Navy aboard a guided missile cruiser deployed to the Arabian Gulf. He earned his undergraduate degree in Logistics & Marine Transportation from the United States Merchant Marine Academy, after receiving his nomination to the Academy by Senator Chris Dodd.
